JNPA's Centralized Parking Plaza (CPP), operational since 2020, has made impressive strides in sustainability, saving around 4008.63 tons of CO<sub>2</sub>. Equipped with reefer plug points, a buffer yard, and dedicated areas for export container examination which results in saving logistic cost and time. CPP not only is setting new standards for a greener future but also for port operational efficiency

Beyond its environmental achievements, CPP also enhances truck drivers' well-being by offering essential services like medical care, food options, and comfortable lodging. This JNPA initiative combines operational efficiency with community care, making our port ecosystem both sustainable and driver-friendly.
