ITD Cementation India bags ₹1,648 crore Vadhvan Port contract

Our Bureau
Mumbai

The Board of Directors of Vadhvan Port Project Ltd on Tuesday awarded a ₹1,648-crore contract to ITD Cementation India Ltd for the construction of near shore reclamation and shore protection for the greenfield Vadhvan Port.

The engineering, procurement and construction contract was awarded at their quoted low bid price, which is 6.11 per cent below the estimated cost of ₹1,770 crore, stated an official release.

Umesh Shiral Wagh, IIS, Chairman, JNPA, and CMD, VPPL, said, "This contract represents an important step toward establishing the core infrastructure for Vadhvan Port. The near-shore reclamation will lay the groundwork for subsequent phases of the project, ensuring we move forward with a strong and sustainable base."

"We look forward to accelerating the work and making steady progress toward our goals," he added.

The awarded package encompasses the development of about 200 hectares in the near shore area, including loading points and essential infrastructure.

Located in Palghar district, Maharashtra, Vadhvan Port is set to become India's 13th major and largest container port. It is being developed under a landfill port model, with terminals built through public-private partnerships.
